Children's rights protection and the EU's multilevel governance: from laws and policies to practice

Partecipa all'evento: <https://unipd.zoom.us/j/547796940>

Despite the fact that global and European debates about children's rights protection evolves over time, children's rights protection still remains one of the 'soft' issues more related to a promise than a reality. The main aim of this seminar is to highlight the gap between political ambitions and local realities and to identify hindrances to children's rights implementation. There is a continuous debate if the context of the multilevel governance, such as one of the EU, strengthens or hinders children's rights implementation. This event is devoted to examine the relationship between various levels of governance in protecting children's rights and by using the evidence from empirical research on Italian case study to contribute to the debate.
